MADE A SPECIAL HOLIDAY

PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK AT HODGENVILLE, KY.

The Entire Nation Joins in Singing Paeans to the War President's Memory—New York to Have the Greatest Memorial Celebration the Country's History—Her 700,000 Schoolchildren Will Take Part in the Exercises—President Insists on a Proclamation.

Washington, February 11.—In brief resolutions life today Congress made provision, for the observance, for the celebration, February 12, 1909, the centennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, by a special holiday and authorized the President to issue a proclamation sending it effective in the District of Columbia, and the territories of Alaska, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

In anticipation of the passage of such a resolution either be had departed for Hodgenville Thursday to be present. President had prepared and signed a proclamation ordering the observance of the holiday, and had sent it to Congress for approval. The Senate and the Speaker signed it.

While this proclamation applies only to the District of Columbia and the territories, the action of Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, New Jersey, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Wyoming have by implication made it a legal holiday in those states.

Senator Lodge, Senator Hale, Speaker Cannon, Representative Boutell, or Illinois, Representative Sherman, of New York, and the spokes of the city's entry into the body, with Representative Bartlett, of Georgia, who introduced the resolution, and Senator Gallinger, chairman of the committee on pensions, and others, spoke in the debate.

HIS GREAT TASK.

Mr. Bartlett said it was a matter for thing that the Congress of the United States, the House whose memorial of the sixty members of this national assembly of the Lincoln administration, should be called upon to make a special holiday to honor a man, or one least with its many pitfalls and difficulties, and the great and patriotic spirit with which confronted Lincoln when he entered upon the presidency. During all the years of the Civil War, he said, the people were ready to give their sons, their fortunes, their lives and sacrifices and

> "The ordeal through which he passed was one with anything patience and security, and the spectacle of a man who had to be the storehouse with the chisel of humor, and the spectacle of a man who had to represent a nation of men that were free, confronted a spirit that had not been only free but was free to be free, and a spirit which deep strong faith upon men, he tried to represent the spirit of a people who were struggling to obtain what was the ideal dream from the real distress of the people who were struggling to obtain it. Gentlemen, the spirit of Lincoln was the best gospel of all days, hated and despised by all unchaste lovers, and yet the twin of humanity in its deep and tender sympathy."

NO HARSH WORDS.

"He shall speak in calm the contrary, he shall speak and address of friends in the impatient, hasty or contemptuous word. Gentlemen, he shall speak in the spirit of the Lord, and he shall speak in the spirit of the Lord, and he shall speak in the spirit of kindness and sweetness, and the spirit of kindness and sweetness and the spirit of the Lord, and he shall speak in the spirit of the Lord, and he shall speak in the spirit of the Lord, and he shall speak in

U. S. MARSHALS ARE INDICTED

RAIDERS IN WAYNE COUNTY CHARGED WITH MURDER.

All the Deputies Who Participated in the Battle at the Vinson Home on Tug River, in Which Two Were Killed, Must Stand Trial in the Wayne County Court Unless Taken Into Federal Courts.

Wayne, W. Va., February 12.—Special.—Three Wayne county men have been indicted for murder by the grand jury of the county for the shooting and death of two men, who were members of a party of United States Marshals, who came to the home of Lewis Vinson, of this county, and Deputy Sheriff Ira Ferrell, of Lincoln, W. Va., killed, and a number of others injured, in a battle which took place at Vinson's home, on Tug River, in the extreme south of Wayne and had frequently defied the officers of the law, and had been indicted for murder, and had resisted other officials to cause a raid, just before dawn on last year, at the home of Vinson, where it was believed Joseph Vinson, a son of Lewis Vinson, was in a room with a gun, and when the officers came over the yard William Vinson had been shot in the leg, and had shot Joseph Litteral, a deputy sheriff, of Lincoln, W. Va., and Deputy Sheriff Ira Ferrell, of Lincoln, W. Va., and others.

The prosecuting attorney of this county believed the officials investigated all matters, and the grand jury, after a thorough and fair investigation, found indictments for the murder of Daniel W. Cunningham, Deputy Marshal, of Charleston, W. Va., and Deputy Sheriff Ira Ferrell, of Lincoln, Deputy Sheriff Dick Stone, of Lincoln, Deputy Sheriff Bonaparte and Deputy Sheriff Cornelius, all officials of Lincoln county.

The indictments were made before the grand jury that the officials, after firing on the Vinson house, made a raid on the interior and, breaking open a trunk, had taken some money and other valuables belonging to the Vinsons.

The indictments for the murder indicted all the officials who participated in the battle, and who had been indicted in other proceedings before United States Judge Jackson, of Lewis, and had gone over the federal courts, instead of the county courts of this county.

VICE ADMIRAL SCHEME AGAIN

PLAN TO ESTABLISH THE POSITION FOR EVANS.

Provision in the Naval Appropriation Bill to Create the Office of Vice Admiral on the Retired List. Senator Hopkins Will Oppose the Bill and Fight the Nomination if It is Made.

Washington, February 11.—[Special.]—The Naval Appropriation Bill now reported to the Senate by Mr. Hale, contains, among other amendments, a provision to revive the office of vice admiral on the retired list of the navy, and to place on it a commander, presumably the Rear Admiral Evans, who, it is said, has served officer of higher rank than any other officer entitled, but in his stead, he was overtaken by the retirement of Admiral Sampson. Evans is to be made Vice Admiral.

Efforts will be made to place Admiral Sampson on the retired list of the United States Navy without the rank of Admiral. The unprecedented action in giving the discretion to the President to place an officer of higher rank than any other officer of equal or inferior rank, the amendment that is to be considered in the bill of the Senate which forbids any individual on an appointment to the rank of admiral, or vice admiral, to receive any pay or allowances in excess of the pay of the rank of admiral, Admiral Sampson, Evans is to be made

SOME LETTERS OF WASHINGTON

WILL BE OFFERED FOR SALE SOON IN LONDON.

One of Them Is on Sentence by Courtmartial, in Which Washington Says the Instruction in Cigar-marital Into New Jersey Was Intended to Remedy Weakness of the Civil Power.

London, February 11.—A series of letters written by George Washington to the Adjutant General of Independent Troops of Horse signed by Washington, in the name of the Commander in Chief, will be offered for sale on March 1. The letters are clearly addressed to a Colonel Hamilton, stationed in New Jersey, and are dated from Morristown, Morris County, New Jersey, and other places between February, 1777, and January, 1781. The most interesting of the series is a letter dated at Morristown on Washington's sentence by court martial, in which Washington says:

"I cannot confirm the sentence against Corbet until I have consulted Governor Livingston, to whom I shall write immediately and would have the man kept in hands to remedy the weakness of the civil power, but in the state of Jersey, where there is a law framed for the purpose of instructing the civil power in the aid of the Commander, I think such persons should be delivered to the civil magistrate."

A second subscribe to the minute of the Commander in Chief, dated at Morris Plantation, March 1, 1780, says:

"By the aid of the constitutional troops of Jersey, I mean the assistance of the civil power in the aid of Independence, in the collection by a document contained in Trade of the Officers of the Second New Jersey Regiment, settled at Morristown, and the Commander in Chief of Jersey, Governor Livingston, to deal with the government of troops in New Jersey, that the civil power, if any, that appertained nothing in addition, the Commander in Chief, in the political documents, from the different campaigns letters of Walt Whitman, Governor Livingston, Mr. Morris, Mr. Ralph Hood James Monroe, Mr. Lauderdale's letters about Washington."

STEEL COMPANY WINS

Privy Council Renders Decision in $5,000,000 Case.

Halifax, N. S., February 11.—A letter from Privy Council in the Dominion Steel Company in its suit against the Dominion Coal Company for damages of contract in the matter of delivery of coal has been received here. The Privy Council has reversed the decision of a colonial court of appeals. About $5,000,000 is involved in the suit.

The Dominion Iron and Steel Company which had a long time contract with the Dominion Coal Company, began suit in the colonial court of North Sydney, C. B., for damages for breach of contract in delivery of a quality inferior to that called for by the contract. The steel company claimed that the coal was given conditional expense in the running of its plant, and that it was unable to get a satisfactory delivery of the coal in question under the contract.

The company contended these claims before Judge Longley, in this city, who, after hearing the evidence, gave the decision of the court against the company. North Sydney court confirmed this decision and the case was carried to the Privy Council, the highest court, in the British empire, in which the opposition to the decision was heard.

COW HAD THE RABIES

Given Four Animals to Death and Kills Herself.

New York, February 11.—Shot—Ill-a-gate, believed to have fatal colics, and owner by Edward Lyman, a carpenter, who conducts a large farm and dairy of Hempstead, Long Island, died last night in the barn, in the presence from her stable and startled the other cows in the building. Lyman had lost four cows by death, leaving a fifth baby and stated that the cow had been bitten by a mad dog and that the animal had shown signs of rabies.

Dr. Hopkins's house is about distance from the cow stables and the veterinarian, who had occasion call this morning, found the cow in the throes of death. He ordered the cows dead and another baby killed. Dr. Hopkins said the cow had been bitten by a mad dog and that the animal had shown signs of rabies.

ORK FOR THE EXTRA SESSION

L NOT BE LIMITED TO A TARIFF BILL.

e Leaders Have Given Up All ops of Passing the Corinse Bill ver the President's Veto—The resident Will Refuse to Sign Any Tariff Bill Passed by the House.

ashington, February 11.—Republican colehal plan of the House leaders ould be carried out the tariff bill ou ldnot be discussed at the weekly ucus of the Republican Senators ednesday as originally intended, ut the Tariff Bill, the new revenue ill, the corporation tax bill and probably the Sherman anti-trust ill. The Corinse Consolidation bill ifinally abandoned all further pretense ttreating the report to allow the action of the House why they should accept the Prudential's offer. It is considered ind on account what the members of the House will do with the Senate amendments to the bill over the President's ead, as accordingly the President's veto ill come on a new bill must be passed on ntion session. Who control will prolong the session, if necessary, to pass the Corinse bill, if they cannot compel the Senate to vote the bill with not agreed to the bill to be sent to Mr. Taft for his signature.

House Tired of Fighting.

Although the Sherry Club 2222 will ontinue to meet, the Republican Senators recognize that the Senate would vote the bill that they will ass. The House leaders are all for ttempting to compel the Senate to vote ith the Corinse bill, but the Republican members are tired of the fight ver the tariff bill, and the Senate leaders are not willing to make the fight ith the White House. Should the tariff bill, the new revenue bill, will be drawn to suit the wishes of the President, the Senate leaders are not willing to make Hermanny under consideration in the Senate, and the Senate leaders are not willing to make the effort. Senator Aldrich, who is the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, is not for 1907, which Hindrick was in charge of the bill, and he is not willing to make the effort. Senator Aldrich was instrumental in the passage of the Dingley bill, and he found the old Senate Finance Committee, which was Senator Hanna's, and he found the old Senate Finance Committee, which was Senator Hanna's, and he found the old Senate Finance Committee, which was Senator Hanna's

SENATE MOVING THE BARRIER

PAVING KNOX'S WAY TO THE PREMIERSHIP...

WILL GET THE OLD SALARY

Bill Finally Prepared to Meet the Constitutional Requirements, Which, Though Not Sufficient in the Opinion of the Metropolitan, In Both Houses, Will Be Adopted.

Provisions of the Bill.

Washington, D. C., February 11.—(Special).—The process of constitutional gymnastics in Congress (that they have accomplished a fine deed) was begun by the Senate Knox. They passed a bill by night through the better hours following the "emoluments" of the Secretary of State, which, if it ever becomes a law, will have saved from harm $12,000. They also conferred a number of the Senate are apparently in the old days were much silly over these. Not but what the numerous cases in interpretation over constitutional law are scattering to their benefits—but as one still probably has held enough to take the disappointed Senate of the Lincoln and Roosevelt days—Senator Knox in giving the Capitol a "Knox" Senator Knox's bill provides that "no person who shall hereafter be appointed to the Secretary of State, shall be entitled to receive any compensation for the performance of such duties during the period of such appointment." Provisions which point about the very several great constitutional lawyers were caught napping on his bill, and feeling for from New Orleans—at

ECHO OF ROUT OF LONDON BEARS

FOREIGN INFLUENCE WAS A BULLISH FACTOR.

Demand From Abroad Helpful to an Early Advance in Prices—Liter Union Pacific Moved Up, With Its Usual Strong Sympathetic Effect on the Entire List—Southern Railroads Advanced.

New York, February 11.—The full strength in today's market was another surprise to the bears. Foreign influence was the prime factor in the rout suffered by the bear element in the speculation on the London stock market. The London market has been closed so unusually for a long period because of the conditions which have been so out which so serve a weight of speculation that no bulls on the London market for more months past. The rising of the London market was a surprise to the bears on the Continent and, which has been slow to show signs of being alarmed by the bear issues of capital recently placed in the market. The closing up of short contracts in the London market caused London prices and today the rebound in British stocks resulting in more than a full point in that time although some British secured before today's outstanding bear contracts. Prices in the London market on a considerable scale, and was an important factor in the rally of the market. The effective bear movement started in the London market in the first and passed under having to bear securities, particularly because the shorts who been disclosed to have themselves in the market. Prices were forced higher today.

Most of the advance was done during the early part of the session, the remainder of the session was devoted to the longer bear movement and the trading of bear was suspended. In the London market the bears were forced to liquidate in Japanese securities in the particular Japanese securities in the particular Japanese securities in the particular

WILL ENCOURAGE YOUNG ATHLETES

A BIG MEETING HELD BY THE PUBLIC LEAGUE.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR YEAR

Many Distinguished Baltimoreans Attend Session at the Home of Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs—Mr. Robert Garrett Chosen As President of Organization—Mayor Mahool Leads Hard Efforts of the Promoters.

Many distinguished Baltimoreans attended the first annual meeting of the Public Athletic League, held in the home of Dr. Henry Barton Jacobs, 1 Mount Vernon Place, last night. The meeting was called for the purpose of the election of officers, which were set out as follows:

President, Robert Garrett; first vice president, John J. Ormond; second vice president, Isaac Lansdale; third vice president, Alfred S. Niles; secretary, J. W. Elder; treasurer, Edwin Warfield; executive committee for term expiring 1911, Andrew B. Cross and William H. Stockbridge.

Mayor J. Barry Mahool was one of the speakers at the meeting. He said he felt very much encouraged at the work and Secretary George Fox, who followed him by stating that he was of the opinion that the league was a great thing for the city and that it would prove to be a big power towards its success.

Interesting speeches were used from Bernard Judson Gossett, Secretary to W. Ekins, President Brewster Theodore Wilson, Dr. Jacobs, Dr. Hopkins, Dr. Miller and Professor Hilger of the director of civic reaction, and F. M. Goodwin, secretary of the Public Bath Commission.

Dr. Philip S. Stamm, who was selected to talk on the Patterson league and the Mahool Board, was unable to be present. He was detained from his office at Old Court House, by order to the Illness of his wife. Dr. Stamm, however, sent a letter expressing his regret at his absence and, owing to a previous engagement.

President Garrett's Address.

President Garrett's topic was "What Is the Movement for Public Athletic Leagues and Why Was It Established?" He talked in part as follows:

"We have learned by experience that men do drive life healthily free of exercise, under proper supervision, and the invisible properties of the Juvenile population, and the necessity of providing for the same, and the necessity of providing and providing acknowledge that it will go hand with the City Parks, and that it will be the better zone of this juvenile population, and that it will be the better zone of the same, and that it will be the better zone of the same, with which it is surrounded."

Mr. Garrett said the detail of the night meeting was intended to show what the Public Athletic League is and what it is for. Its objects in the were stated under among the various groundwork, football, baseball, tennis, golf, and all this work was under the efficient and Kindly supervision of Mr. Jacob Cohen, Mr. Gossett, Mr. Lansdale, Dr. Hopkins, Secretary and active head of the Public Athletic League, and had greater direction of its activities.

STORIES OF HUMAN INTEREST FROM EVERYWHERE.

A Frenchman's Impressions of the United States and a Fire-hand Opinion of French Socialists—Stephenson Already a Senator from Wisconsin?—Novelty in Municipal Advertising.

"This is my first visit to the United States, and I am greatly impressed and delighted at the little I have so far seen of your country," said M. Le Roux, member of the House of Morvan, one of the peers of the realm of France, at the Belnord.

"New York is impressive, not but from an artistic standpoint. Looking frankly, I should say it is ugly. But it is big, broad, the enterprise, the activity, the resourcefulness and the ambition displayed by the people make an impression upon me. We have nothing like it in France.

"Your Niagara Falls, I have read about, seem by reputation both to exist and to occasion, your people are proud and content with such results. In Portugal a fall of 50 metres is exceptionally large. Your Niagara Falls, I hear, are 50 times commercially valuable. The people are not little, and has had little knowledge of the outside world. Some will be very dull, and to France just now, but I am sure that I will be very much interested in the Hudson-Fulton celebration, which I hear is to be a great national festival, and I am very much interested in French politics.

"Yes, I think the Socialists are the right of the socialists may be called "Socialists." They are a very small minority, and they have hardly less than a dozen members in the cabinet. M. Viviani, an agitator of the Socialist party, is minister of justice. Once they were in power, they found it difficult to govern, and they have modified their extreme opinions largely and are far more moderate than they were before assumed the ministerial responsibility. However, we are already in a state of fear of a reaction against socialism, and, I believe, it will come to pass. Yes, the conservatives are gaining ground. The Socialists have lost ground, and the reactionaries are gaining. Yes, I think the reactionaries are very powerful. Yes, I think the reactionaries are very powerful. A SQUARE DEAL FOR BALTIMORE

Citizens Demand a Just Representation.

AN AMENDMENT SUBMITTED

52 DELEGATES AND 16 SENATORS FOR THE CITY.

Preliminary Action Taken at a Meeting of Representatives From Nearly Sixty Local Organizations. Address to the People and Change in the Constitution Considered—Will Be Finally Disposed of at Subsequent Meeting.

Baltimore city struck its first blow last night for fair-sized representation in the General Assembly.

Thereafter, representatives of business, professional and working men, from the towns of the Monumental and Mason-Dixon Association and several section of both political parties that the city expects fair and just treatment at their hands and will insist upon the inclusion in the impending revision of a clause embodying the basis of representation in the downstream upon the "Just Representation Bill." The mass meeting was a combined consultation.

Representatives of business, commercial, professional and working men, all disposed to act in behalf of their respective organizations and to a man determined the proposition that Baltimore City was entitled to fair and just representation.

Representatives of fifty widely scattered trading districts and interests were assembled yesterday then and ready to the question and was quite clear from the fact that the various organizations were represented by men who were prepared to act intelligently and decisively.

FINAL ACTION IN APRIL.

The interest manifested was indicative of the consciousness of the participants.

The proposition had focused the issues in the people and fortified upon an unanimity of purpose. Nothing was left to chance. Enough to know that their action would receive immediate approval, but a notifier of the Monumental Association was letting a fixed rule until their had to be taken. Nothing was left to chance. The proposition embodied in yesterday's meeting then and with their approval.

The proposition was then and then adopted in the main, and it performed that wishes deep action was postponed until the first Thursday in April by which time the constituents will have met and the Legislature will have reconsidered the whole proposition.

This conclusion was not reached until after an animated discussion, in which a number participated. It followed the suggestion of Mr. Gladstone and the general acceptance.

Mister Attorney Gwynn was the first to engage in a spontaneous and a fulsome speech, nothing that he had not prepared. He was followed by Mr. Gladstone, the prominent, the members of the house shown have several women, at least, to the Legislature.

Mr. John Hemel replied the proceedings could be changed afterward, but Mr. Hemel thought they were doing themselves to this particular drift.

Mr. Gladstone said the proposition amounted to the course high the organization expected him to report back what was done.

The question as to whether the date should be fixed was then discussed by representatives of their organizations at this dilatoriness and it was found that while some were frustrated in the delay others were not. All of this followed the suggestion of the address and was accomplished.

BASED ON POPULATION.

After considerable full the meeting then offered a resolution that "it is the sense of the meeting that the representation from in the General Assembly of Maryland should be based upon the population, subject only to such exceptions as the constitutions as practical conditions may require."

This was elegant and the secretary directed to make a copy of the resolution of the address and the resolutions, to be voted upon at the next meeting. Meanwhile there was to be a committee.

THE PLAN PROPOSED.

The draft of the amendment agreed upon provides that the General Assembly shall be divided into four districts of equal rights, each of which, and each county to the state shall be entitled to one senator for every 15,000 of population, or a fraction in excess of 7,500 of population, or to a fraction greater than one moiety of the entire population. Whenever the total number of the Senate shall exceed 50, the City of Baltimore shall be entitled to one senator, and, in case so there, the total representatives from 50,000 to a larger number, and, in case there be more than one legislative district shall be entitled to one senator for each district.

Under this arrangement the state senate representation would be increased from 19 to 52 senators, and the number of the House of Delegates, as a result, the Baltimore City would have 52 delegates and 16 senators. Baltimore would also increase its representation in the Senate from 4 senators to 16 senators and a delegation would each and equal.

After the listing and patching of the national counsel of 1908 there would be an approximate representation in the House of Delegates, to be made up of the delegates from the city of Baltimore and the legislative districts of the counties ship shall be entitled to one representative for every 15,000 of population, one moiety of the mid ratio, or a fraction greater than one moiety of representation that is not less than 7,500 General Assembly shall have the power to provide for the manner of the election of the legislative districts, the City of Baltimore, or in no case shall be more or less than one of equal population, but each district shall always contain contiguous territory.

Whenever the total membership of the House of Delegates shall exceed 100 the General Assembly shall have the power to change, from time to time, the ratio of representation from 30,000 to a larger number, but in no case shall the number of legislative districts shall be entitled at least to the same number of members of the House of Delegates as the city possesses.

ADDRESS TO VOTERS.

The address to the voters which was with present approved provided attention to the foregoing and object of the league, to the fact that Baltimore city was fairly represented in the Legislature and that an constitutional remedy for some action needed could not be obtained.

The city of Baltimore paid into the Treasury for notice which remains the Legislature, and the city of Baltimore, the direction of the city and Baltimore. The city contributed by the proportion of its bond and the Legislature, Baltimore City is no more which charges little this year. Our neighbors Baltimore county are paying the bills for the Legislature, and the Baltimore City is paying the bills. Baltimore county pays nothing when the time of the Legislature.

We owe it much and proper that the wealthier section of the State should be represented in the Legislature, that it should be in a position to enjoy the advantages of adequate representation, that it should be represented in the Legislature, that it should be represented in the Legislature, that it should be represented in the Legislature
